Webinar on Thesis Writing: Behind the Scene

The School of Research, (Dept of English) successfully organized a webinar on “Thesis Writing: Behind the Scene” on 16th June, 2021. The online session speaker, Dr Sharmistha Chatterjee from the Aliah University, Kolkata, West Bengal gave academic insight into research and documenting of the thesis. The session topic was introduced by the Programme Coordinator, School of Research, Dr. Sonia Riyat, the welcome note was delivered by the Programme Coordinator, Dept of English, Ms Rajkumari Ghosh. The Vice Chancellor of the Arka JAIN University, Prof. S S Razzi, enlightened the participants and motivated the scholars towards a true research activity. The session was conducted by the Convenor, Dr Rupa Sarkar and the vote of thank you was expressed by Dr Manoj Kumar Pathak from the Dept of English.

It was truly inspirational to listen to the speaker as, she gave the different ways to look at the research. The certain points of discussion like ‘How and Where to Start, Identifying an interesting area, In a library, books will be listed under the following categories: Author category/ Title category/ Subject category’. The speaker also enlightened upon the ‘Some of the better known indexes: The Humanities Index/ The Social Sciences Index/ The New York Times Index/ The Readers’ Guide to Periodical literature’. The further discussion took way to consulting of the research work by the scholars into Dissertation Abstracts International (DAI), Shodhganga@ Inlibnet and Google Scholar. Here next help for the research scholars would be the reference books and other sources were also discussed. The speaker stressed more on the use of proper formal language as well the note taking skills to be enhanced by the researchers. The sum total of the webinar was well accumulated with certain tips on the thesis writing.

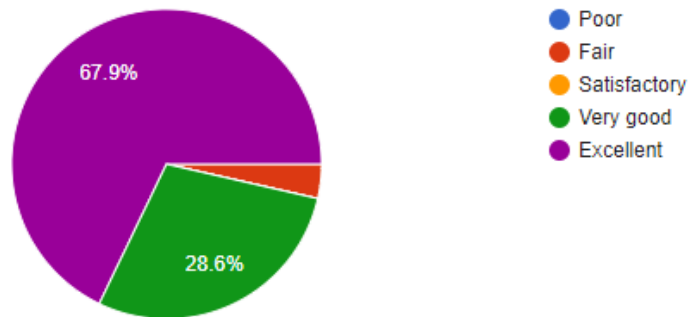

The School of Research sincerely extends its gratitude to the other faculties and management heads for their wishes and support for organising the webinar.
