Research in literature requires a good deal of reading and interpretative skill to contribute remarkably to the existing body of knowledge, said Dr. Pallavi Kiran, Assistant Professor of the School of Humanities, KIIT University, Bhubaneswar as a guest speaker in a virtual webinar organized by the School of Research, Arka Jain University (AJU) on the topic 'Modelling Research Tools in English Literature'. She presented some useful research tools for the researchers of literature.

Vice-Chancellor, AJU Prof. S. S. razi and DSW Dr. Angad Tiwary also addressed the audience.

Dr. Manoj Kumar Pathak, the event-coordinator and moderator of the said webinar, said that a research in literature allows a person to step back in time and learn about life on Earth from the ones who walked before us. It also helps to gather a better understanding of culture and have a greater appreciation of them. We learn through the ways history is recorded, in the forms of manuscripts and through speech itself.

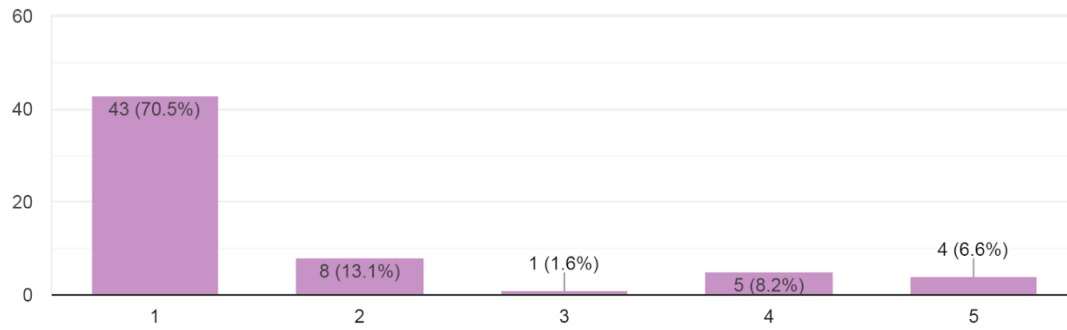

Earlier to it, the Program Coordinator of the School of Research, AJU Dr. Sonia Riyat gave the welcome address and Program Coordinator of English Department of AJU, Prof. Rajkumari Ghosh proposed the vote of thanks. In the said virtual seminar, students, researchers and professors from various colleges and universities of the city and the country took participation.
