INTRODUCTION ON VIRTUAL SEMINAR

South Asian Literature (SAL) showcases the literary imagination, distinct thematic concerns and linguistic inventiveness of Asian writers as they negotiate their varied cultural identities. Scholars of literature, anthropology, linguistics, postcolonial theory and criticism, history, politics, and culture find the South-Asian literature as rich in insights into modern experiences and their traditional connections. It represents widely cast diasporas and provides an exciting look into the interplay of literary traditions, where disparate influences are evident in most of the works. South-Asian writers have adopted and applied postmodern literary techniques to tell ancient stories, and contemporary political parables teased out of classic epics. The South Asian literature is, therefore, important and to be encouraged so that our cultures get acknowledged and recognized in the global context.

OBJECTIVE OF VIRTUAL SEMINAR

This is true that colonial rule created a gap between the past of the South Asian countries and the present. It altered many boundaries also that created new mind sets. Some migrated writers moved away from tradition and their interface with the west changed the perceptions of how they viewed their own societies. Experiences of migration, gender bias, racism and war are quite prevalent in SAL. The objective of this virtual seminar is to bring awareness towards the importance of, or even existence of the South Asian Literature, and the significance of studying and analyzing the contrasting cultures of the East and the West. This virtual seminar intends to appreciate as well as bring out the true feelings that hold all minds together as barriers of languages and cultural backdrops can never exist to hold back on any thought or emotions.
