INTRODUCTION ON VIRTUAL SEMINAR

The conference aims to platform the literary imagination, assorted thematic apprehension and linguistic creativity of writers as they negotiate their diverse cultural identities. Scholars of literature, anthropology, linguistics, post colonial theory and criticism, history, politics and culture find literature on Centre and Periphery as affluent insight into modern understanding and their traditional connections. The conference would represent widely on cast Diasporas and provide an exciting look into the relationship of literary convention, where incongruent authorities are apparent in most of the work. This conference is therefore important and presenters need to be optimistic so that the quest of Power at Centre and Periphery gets acknowledged and recognized in the global context.

OBJECTIVE OF VIRTUAL SEMINAR

The peripheral existence, marginalization, tenuous position and lack of a sense of belongingness and survivalist strategies are issues explored and faced by the Colonial Countries and underprivileged section by the prejudiced society. This feeling of being excessively scrutinized and marginalized is common especially amongst women and the subjugated lot. Issues of lack of progression due to peripheral existence, due to dilemma and conflicts, life in exile, diaspora understanding of centre and periphery, lack of support and access to resources would be identified and discussed. The seminar aims to describe how these underprivileged section negotiate their experiences of work and how they feel damaged by their experiences. The conference concludes by making institutional change in the present scenario for broadened horizon.
