At the beginning of the program there was an inaugural address by Dr. Rahul Amin followed by Prof (Dr) S. S. Razi who while addressing everyone present in this session said that “Film is the mirror of society. Students must learn the art of making great films and conveying their story to the people through the film. So make sure to take advantage of this program and learn about the art of film making from film director Shriram Dalton. The launch of 'Jal Jungle Zameen Hamara Hai' initiative by film director Shriram Dalton is also commendable.”

Dr. Rahul Amin, Head of the Department of Journalism and Mass Communication said that “Jharkhand has a lot of scope in regional film production. Students should learn the art of filmmaking and focus on regional filmmaking. Make the most of this session with film director Sriram Dalton to learn the art of filmmaking."

Filmmaker Shriram Dalton started his session by playing the musical instrument Turi and told the students about his new film 'Spring Thunder'. He also shared the inspiration for making his film. He also spoke about the scope and importance of regional filmmaking in Jharkhand. He said that it is important to focus on regional film production. He also told what difficulties he faced in making the film. He also shared his experience on how he made people aware about water, forest and land by undertaking a foot march from Mumbai to Jharkhand. He also revealed that his new film Spring Thunder has been made keeping in mind the conservation and protection of natural resources. During this session, Rohit Pandey, who played the role of Golden in Spring Thunder, and other actors Niranjan Pandey were also present.

The students and faculty members showed enthusiasm in directing the film and asked many questions to the film director Shriram Dalton. Film director Shriram Dalton answered the questions of all the students and faculty members and encouraged everyone to make film.

After the Q&A session, a vote of thanks was given by Amit Kumar Singh, Assistant Professor, Department of Journalism and Mass Communication.
