The Department of Journalism and Mass Communication of Arka Jain University organized a guest lecture on the title 'Journalism without Fear and Favour'.

The guest speaker of this online guest lecture was Mr. Ashok Pradhan, Bureau Chief of Times of India (Bhubaneswar).

The convener of this online guest lecture was Dr. Rahul Amin, Head of Department, Journalism and Mass Communication department. The coordinator and host of this online guest lecture was Amit Kumar Singh Assistant Professor, Department of Journalism and Mass Communication.

Students from Department of Journalism and Mass Communication of Arka Jain University participated in this special guest lecture. The purpose of this informative session was to educate the students about the aspects related to journalism. Through this special informative session, guest speaker gave many information to the students, like he made the students aware that journalism cannot be taught only through class room teaching, for this it is very important to have field exposure and practical knowledge. He gave examples of his real life situation that he faced while reporting news on the field to explain the journalism in detail. He also told the students about the purpose of journalism. He made students aware that journalism helps citizens in their lives, their communities, to provide the necessary information to make the best possible decisions about their society and their government. He also shared with the students that they cannot create news with their imagination, they have to find new topics worth reporting only then they will be able to make effective news.

At the end of the lecture by guest speaker Mr.Ashok Pradhan, the students got a chance to ask questions and interact with him. The expert speaker answered every question of the students.

Head of the Department of Journalism and Mass Communication Dr. Rahul Amin said that – 'It is very important for all the students of the Department of Journalism and Mass Communication to have a thorough knowledge of media and journalism, only then they will be able to become a great and responsible journalist, keeping this in mind the guest lecture has been organized so that the students can learn the nuances of journalism in media sector. This will also help them in choosing the right career.'

In the end of this session, a vote of thanks was given by Shyam Kumar, Assistant Professor, Department of Journalism and Mass Communication.

This special informative session was very beneficial for all the participants and the participants got to learn a lot about Journalism and its career from this informative online lecture.
