The Objective behind to organize Quiz competition is to evaluate the knowledge of the participants within academics as well as beyond academics and to make them familiar with the prospects of quizzes and the objectivity of the questions. With practicing quizzes, students can do critical thinking, and get into a habit of innovative learning. These quizzes integrate the game mechanics into the learning process, they help students understand the weaker areas. Quizzes help students identify what they know and what they don't know. The students then have a better idea of how well they are grasping the material, hopefully motivating them to study more and helping them allocate their study time effectively by focusing on the information that still needs more practice. A questioning teacher creates incentives for students to learn more. Teacher sets up effective and definite goals for learning; giving oral or written examination is a good incentive for the students to study harder or to do better work. Quick quizzes throughout the day can help teachers assess the effectiveness of their instruction, as well as student understanding of the concepts taught. Teaching is changing. Today, there is more focus placed on equality and welfare, and supporting students through their learning. Thankfully, the old way of 'drill and kill' has mostly gone by the wayside in favour of different teaching tools that are more effective at fostering a love of learning while reinforcing and consolidating skills. One of our favourite resources is quizzes. Not only are quizzes fun for students, they are also a sneaky form of learning as they don't feel like a traditional activity. Quizzes can help your students practise existing knowledge while stimulating interest in learning about new subject matter. To help students prepare for an upcoming exam or test, why not prepare a quiz to highlight any gaps in learning? It will also create a template of keywords and phrases for students to memorise. Ten keywords or sentences is a lot easier to remember as a guide, and seems far less daunting than having to revise the whole topic. With this in mind, we are going to delve into our Primary quizzes series conducted with the title quiz wiz on 8th August 2022 in all the subjects taught in different semesters. This time the activity was conducted in MCQ pattern.
