OBJECTIVE: To greet joys and sorrows with equal facility can really get the best of life is the lesson to be learnt from the life of Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel.

DETAILS: On 5thDecember 2022 the students from different departments of the university gathered in the auditorium of block A to participate in the story telling session of KRANTI EK VEER KATHA EPISODE II. They shared various untold stories about Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, The Iron Man Of India. The Iron Man of India, Founding Father of India, Bismarck of India, Unifier of India, etc., are some titles to one of the greatest freedom fighters of India, Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel.When he was taking his Matriculation exam then he was asked his date of birth, Sardar Patel randomly told 31st October 1875. Since then 31 October is considered his date of birth. At the age of 16, he got married to Jhaverba Patel in 1891 and at the age of 22, he passed his matriculation. When he was taking care of his friends who was suffering from the plague, Patel came down with the same disease. As the disease was highly contagious, Patel sent his family to a safe place and spent some time in a derelict temple. Later, he recovered from the disease slowly. Patel spent several years away from family; studying on his own by borrowing books from friends. Later, he settled in Godhra with his wife. Before going to England and becoming a barrister, Patel took a course in Law and practiced as a country-lawyer in Godhra, Borsad, and Anand. At the age of 36, Sardar Patel went to England to study Law. He enrolled in Middle Temple, Inns of Court, London. There, he completed his 36-months course within 30 months and topped his class despite having no college background. In 1909, his wife, Jhaverba Patel was admitted to hospital and diagnosed with cancer. Despite a successful surgery, she died in Hospital. When Patel was given a note of his wife's death, he was cross-examining a witness in the court. Patel read the note and pocketed it and continued his work. When he returned from England, his lifestyle was completely changed. He used to wear suits and started speaking mostly in English. He used to smoke cigars at that time, however, he quit smoking later in the company of Mahatma Gandhi.

He was fond of playing Bridge, a card game. In England as well as in India, he used to play Bridge. He used to defeat many big players of this game very easily in Gujarat Club. When he returned to India in 1913, Patel settled in Ahmedabad and became one of the city's most renowned barristers. He gained popularity as a criminal lawyer. He earned a great wealth along with fame. He did not want to be a politician initially. However, at the urging of his friends, he fought the municipal election in Ahmedabad in 1917 and won it. Once Mahatma Gandhi came to deliver a speech in Gujarat Club. At that time, Patel was playing bridge in the club and didn't go to listen to Mahatma Gandhi. When another activist and his friend, G.V. Mavlankar, began to go to the speech of Mahatma Gandhi, Patel stopped him and said, "Gandhi would ask you if you know how to shift pebbles from wheat and that is supposed to bring independence." At that time, he did not believe in Mahatma Gandhi's Ideology. When Gandhi Ji staged the Indigo revolt in favor of peasants, Patel got inspired a lot, and a subsequent meeting with Gandhi Ji in 1917, changed Patel and led him to join the Indian Independence Movement. After the Jallianwala Bagh Massacre, Gandhi Ji started the non-cooperation movement and Patel supported him thoroughly. Patel organized bonfires in various places of Ahmedabad and set all his English clothes and commodities on fire. He started to wear Khadi clothes and became a true Indian. When the round-table conference failed in London, Sardar Patel along with Mahatma Gandhi was imprisoned in 'Yeravda Central Jail' in 1932. During that time, Patel became the right-hand man of Mahatma Gandhi. They both were released in July 1934. Gandhiji taught Patel Sanskrit during this time. During the 1946 Election for the Congress Presidency, 12 out of 15 regional congress committees proposed Patel to be the President. Despite the support of Mahatma Gandhi, not any single committee proposed Jawaharlal Nehru's name. However, later, Patel stepped down in the favor of Jawaharlal Nehru. Just like Otto von Bismarck had integrated Germany politically in the 1860s, Vallabhbhai Patel unified India. He united more than 562 princely states into India. During the time of Integration, he was the first Commander-in-chief of the Indian Armed Forces. Despite his uncountable contribution to the Nation, Sardar Patel was not given the highest civilian award, The Bharat Ratna, for several decades, however, in 1991, Sardar Patel was posthumously awarded, Bharat Ratna.In 2014, the government of India announced that his birthday, 31st October will be celebrated as "National Unity Day" or "Rashtriya Ekta Diwas" in India. In 2018, the Government of India unveiled the world's tallest statue- The statue of Unity in Patel's honour. The Prime Minister of India, Narendra Modi inaugurated this statue on Patel's birthday, i.e., 31 October. The statue is made up of mostly bronze and designed by the famous sculptor, Ram V. Sutar.MR. SURAJ KUMAR(B. Pharm, 1st Semester 2022) stood in 1st position and MR. RAHUL SHAW (B. Pharm, 1st Semester 2022) stood in 2ndposition. Dr. Rupa Sarkar, Associate Professor, English Department witnessed the event with her benign presence. A moovie on Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel shown to the students.

OUTCOMES: Great skill of organizing affairs. Work is undoubtedly worship but laughter is life.
