SESSION ON HUMAN VALUE

Human Value refers to a sense of wrong and right. Dr. Manoj Kumar Pathak took a session on Human Values on 15th September to educate students about the important values of being Human. The ethics a human should be carrying within themselves, love, respect, kindness, understanding, empathy & sympathy, etc. These are some of the things which make us different from every living creature. There are some basic rules which explain how we are interconnected and influence each other, the pursuit of any of the values results in either accordance with one another or a conflict with at least one other value. First dimension is openness to change versus conservation, which contrasts independence and obedience. The second bipolar dimension is self-enhancement versus self-transcendence and is concerned on the one side with the interests of one-self and on the other side of the welfare of others. Mr. Pathak shared the topic beautifully with the Fresher's in becoming the best version of them.
