It has been rightly said that "Women are the real architects of society" and for the development of any nation, the empowerment of women is essential. Keeping in view the same, Jain Institute of Management and Entrepreneurship, Jamshedpur, organised an event titled "Shakti-The celebration of Women Power" on the eve of "International Women's Day" dated March 08, 2017. The event started with the esteemed presence of honorable guests. The chief guest of the day was Mr Sharang Dhar Singh, who is a legal consultant and former Session judge. Mr Sharang, in his address, beautifully explained the "Rights available to the women under the Law". The Guest of honour was Dr. Anju Bajoria, who is a practicing gynecologist at TATA Steel Hospital, Jamshedpur. Dr. Bajoria guided the women on their health issues. In her address, she mentioned that "only a healthy mother can take the best care of her family, therefore it is must for the women to take care of their health." As a special guest, Jain College was fortunate to have Ms. Poonam Mahanand, who is a social worker. Ms Mahanand threw light on all the crucial points related to day to day challenges facing women and how women manage to handle them. The COO, JGI, Jamshedpur, Mr Amit Shrivastav, explained that "A society can develop only when it's women are not only respected but are given the equal rights". The programme was organized by Dr. Charu Wadhwa, who said "It's the presence of mothers at home, that make it a transformation from house to home. A woman, who can perform the most significant task of giving birth and life to a Baby, can do anything else in this world and therefore everyone has to come forward to eliminate evils like dowry, female feticide, child marriage, etc." Various performances by the students, in the form of dance, songs and theatre performance by the students on the theme "Stop Acid attacks and Stop violence against women" were the events of attraction. Another icing to the cake was the exhibition of 'Self defense' training sessions, by the female students. The programme concluded with the felicitation of guests and the felicitation of the female faculty and staff members at the August occasion.
