It has been rightly said that "Women are the real architects of society" and for the development of any nation, the empowerment of women is essential. Keeping in view the same, ARKA JAIN University, Jharkhand, organised an event titled "Shakti-The celebration of Women Power" on the eve of "International Women's Day" dated March 08, 2018. The event started with the 'Lamp Lighting' ceremony. The Chief guest of the day was Ms. Sita Singh, who is a social activist, a news anchor, a school teacher and an actress. Ms. Sita Singh, in her address, beautifully explained and threw light on all the crucial points related to day to day challenges facing women and how women manage to handle them. The Director, AJU, Mr Amit Shrivastav, explained that "A society can develop only when it's women are not only respected but are given the equal rights". The programme was organized by Dr. Charu Wadhwa, who said "It's the presence of mothers at home, that make it a transformation from house to home. A woman, who can perform the most significant task of giving birth and life to a Baby, can do anything else in this world and therefore everyone has to come forward to eliminate evils like dowry, female foeticide, child marriage, etc." Various performances by the students, in the form of dance, songs and theatre performance by the students on the theme "Save the Girl Child" were the events of attraction. The programme concluded with the felicitation of guests and the felictaion of the female faculty and staff members at the August occasion.
