Bongo Utsav, 2023

Date of Event	21.04.2023
Name of the Event	Bongo Utsav
Type of the Event	Cultural event
Conducted by	Department of English & Department of Optometry
No. of Participants	88

OBJECTIVE:

The event was organized to celebrate the Bengali New Year called “Nabo borsho”. Bengalis come together to reminisce good times with friends, dance, sing, recite and end the day feasting on delicacies. The event was organized to include the other communities in the festivities and break the daily’s monotonous routine.

ABOUT THE EVENT:

Bongo Utsav was witnessed by all the staff of Arka Jain University. It started with a classic Bengali conch sound as the guests were welcomed. It was followed by song, dance, and recitation. Faculties sang a group song written by Rabindra Nath Tagore (the heart of Kolkata and Bengalis, and Bard of Indian literature), beautiful poetry in Bengali was presented by Faculty Mr. Sumanta Kumar Sen, he had been the winner of poetry competitions when he was pursuing his higher degree apart from that he had also presented his state on a National level poetry competition. Ms. Shreya Chakraborty (faculty) and Ms. Barsha Basuri (faculty) enhanced the Utsav by dancing to the traditional beats. The event was wrapped up with a ramp walk by Bengalis Fraternity of the campus who were draped in traditional sarees and dhoti-panjabis. Lastly, mishti doi, rosogolla, and Bengali delicacies were served for everybody to munch on and enjoy the Occasion.

TAKEAWAY (OUTCOME):

Events like these brings all the communities together and let us understand the diversity of different culture their customs and traditions. Cultural involvement of staffs is as important as that of students, the involvement show and inspire students to respect as well as preserve them.
