ABOUT THE EVENT:

Our planet is an amazing place, but it needs our help to thrive! That's why each year on April 22nd, more than a billion people celebrate World Earth Day to protect the planet from things like pollution & deforestation. The first Earth Day was celebrated in 1970, when a United States senator from Wisconsin organized a national demonstration to raise awareness about environmental issues. Rallies took place across the country and, by the end of the year, the U.S. government had created the Environmental Protection Agency. By 1990, World Earth Day was an event celebrated by more than 140 countries around the globe.

The Department of Optometry AJU, also organized a Poster & Debate Competition on World Earth Day. The topic for the debate competition was ---- "Is climate change a disaster waiting to happen or a technological challenge that can be overcome?" The students were divided into groups based on whether they wanted to speak for or against the motion. Each person in the group was given the chance to put forth their point.
