Date of Event	29th ,30th and 31st January 2025
Name of the Event	Model Making Session on Importance of Herbal Drugs
Type of the Event	Participative Learning System/Technical Skill Development
Conducted by	School of Pharmacy
No. Of Participants	110

OBJECTIVE: The objective of conducting Model Making Session on Importance of Herbal Drugs is to create awareness about the benefits of herbal drugs. This session aims to facilitate experiential learning through model-making activities that illustrate concepts such as plant anatomy and preparation of herbal remedies. It provides insights into how herbal drugs are derived from plants and their pharmacognostic properties, including benefits and potential side effects.

DETAILS: On 29th ,30th and 31st January, 2025 School of Pharmacy organized Model making session which is an effective pedagogical tool in the study of Pharmacognosy for pharmacy students. It promotes visualization, tactile learning, interaction, application of knowledge, memory enhancement, group collaboration, and a connection to real-life scenarios, all of which contribute to a comprehensive understanding of the subject matter. Model making in the study of Pharmacognosy for B.Pharm students enhances understanding through visualization, tactile learning, and interactive experiences. The hands-on approach reinforces theoretical knowledge, encourages application, and fosters critical thinking. Group collaboration and a connection to real-world pharmacy scenarios make model making a valuable tool for bridging theoretical concepts with practical applications, aiding in memory retention and preparing students for their future profession. A model-making session was conducted for B.Pharm 4th and 6th sem students to enhance their understanding importance of various herbal drugs. Kashinath Mahato and Priyanshu Priya guided the students, providing detailed explanations about different medicinal plants. The session was highly interactive and participative, fostering group work skills among students. They were divided into teams to create models of the various crude drugs like senna, turmeric, ginger, clove, coriander and various other medicinal plants. The students gained valuable insights into collaborative work. The session was thoroughly enjoyed by all and was conceptualized by Dr. Jyotirmaya Sahoo and successfully coordinated by Kashinath Mahato and Priyanshu Priya.

TAKEAWAY (OUTCOMES):

The outcomes of the session were to make the class interesting for the weaker students and improve the practice of the advance label students.
