OBJECTIVE: The objective of the National Education Day event on "Digital Literacy and Equal Access" was to raise awareness about the critical role of digital literacy in modern education and its potential to bridge gaps in access to quality learning. The event aimed to highlight the importance of ensuring equal educational opportunities for all students, regardless of their socio-economic background or geographical location, by leveraging digital tools. It sought to emphasize the need for empowering educators with the necessary digital skills to enhance teaching and learning. Additionally, the event called for the development of policies that promote digital inclusion, providing resources and training to both students and teachers. Ultimately, the goal was to foster collaboration and innovation in education to create a more equitable and accessible learning environment for all.

DETAILS: On November 11, 2024, the Department of Optometry, School of Health and Allied Science, Arka Jain University observed the mark National Education Day, celebrating the birth anniversary of Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, India's first Minister of Education. The theme for this year's National Education Day celebration was "Digital Literacy and Equal Access," focusing on the pivotal role digital literacy plays in making education accessible to all, regardless of background or location. The event kicked off with opening remarks from the dignitaries, acknowledging the significance of National Education Day and the theme for the year. They emphasized the importance of digital literacy as a cornerstone for modern education and an equalizer for opportunities.

The event featured a keynote address by Ms. Jaba Chakraborty, Assistant Professor, Centurion University, joined us virtually, who give a prominent advocate for digital literacy, and emphasized the importance of equipping students with digital skills for academic success and future careers.

She discussed how digital tools can bridge the educational divide by providing equal access to resources, especially in rural and underserved areas. Ms. Jaba also highlighted the challenges, such as limited infrastructure and the digital divide, and called for stronger government policies, improved digital infrastructure, and better training for both teachers and students. The event concluded with an interactive Q&A session, encouraging participants to share insights and ideas for promoting inclusive digital education. Ultimately, the event underscored the need for collective action to ensure equal access to education through digital literacy, advocating for a more equitable and accessible education system.

OUTCOMES: The outcome of the National Education Day 2024 event on "Digital Literacy and Equal Access" was a successful initiative that highlighted the importance of digital literacy in bridging educational divides. The event raised awareness about the need for digital inclusion, especially in rural and underserved areas, emphasizing that digital literacy is essential for providing equal access to quality education. A key outcome was the recognition of the importance of continuous professional development for educators to effectively integrate digital tools into their teaching. Overall, the event culminated in a renewed commitment to ensuring equitable access to education for all students through digital literacy, inspiring future initiatives and policies aimed at promoting digital inclusion in education.
