YUVA 4.0 - STOCKMANIA

Date of Event	28.03.2025
Name of the Event	Stockmania
Type of the Event	Co-curricular activity
Conducted by	ARKA JAIN University
No. Of Participants	23

OBJECTIVE:

The event StockMania was conceptualized with the aim to blend financial literacy with cultural identity under the larger umbrella of YUVA 4.0, an initiative to promote local tribal heritage and culture in Jharkhand. The objective was to encourage young minds to explore the dynamics of the stock market in an engaging, competitive environment while simultaneously fostering an appreciation for the region's indigenous roots..

DETAILS:

The event took place on 28th March 2025 as part of the annual fest YUVA 4.0, which revolved around the theme of promoting local tribals and tribal culture in Jharkhand. StockMania was a simulation-based competition that tested participants on their investment skills, decision-making under pressure, and market understanding. Participants from various streams enthusiastically took part, and the event saw active involvement from students of the School of Commerce and Management. The event was judged by Mr. Arindam Mondal, faculty from the Department of Management, who brought his expertise and keen insights to evaluate participants.

After intense rounds of trading simulations and strategic decision-making, the first prize was awarded to Aman Singh from BBA First Year, while the second prize went to Danish Khan, also from BBA First Year.

TAKEAWAY (OUTCOMES):

The event successfully fostered financial awareness and critical thinking among students. Participants gained hands-on experience of stock market dynamics in a gamified and competitive format. It emphasized the importance of integrating local cultural narratives with modern education, encouraging students to think both globally and locally.
