Date of Event	06.01.2025 to 11.01.2025
Name of the Event	One Week Faculty Development Program-AI for Tomorrow: Transforming Teaching and Research
Type of the Event	Faculty Development Program
Conducted by	Centre for Capacity Building and Human Resource Development (CCHRD) and Department of Management (BBA)
No. Of Participant	85

Objective: The Faculty Development Program aimed to equip faculty members with comprehensive knowledge and practical insights into Artificial Intelligence and its applications in higher education. The key objective was to explore how AI can be integrated into teaching methodologies and academic research to foster innovation, improve instructional delivery, and support data-driven decision-making. Additionally, the program sought to enhance faculty members' understanding of AI tools and techniques, promote interdisciplinary collaboration, and encourage the adoption of ethical and responsible practices when applying AI in educational and research contexts.

Details of the Event: Held from January 6 to January 11, 2025, the one-week Faculty Development Program featured an engaging and intellectually stimulating schedule of expert-led lectures, workshops, panel discussions, and hands-on sessions. The program focused on a variety of key themes such as the fundamentals of Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning, the application of AI in education and research, data analytics, the ethical implications of AI, and its role in shaping student assessment and curriculum development. Eminent speakers from academia and industry shared their expertise, offering practical demonstrations and case studies that illustrated the transformative potential of AI in academic environments. Participants were also involved in interactive virtual group activities.

Outcome: The program significantly enhanced participants' awareness and understanding of AI and its relevance to modern academia. Faculty members reported increased confidence in applying AI tools to enhance student engagement, personalize instruction, and streamline academic tasks. The sessions encouraged faculty to rethink traditional teaching approaches and embrace AI-driven strategies for curriculum design and student performance tracking. In terms of research, participants began conceptualizing innovative projects that leverage AI for data analysis and predictive modelling, opening new avenues for interdisciplinary research. The program also fostered a spirit of collaboration, as faculty members from diverse disciplines exchanged ideas and explored joint initiatives. By the conclusion of the program, several participants had created draft course modules and research outlines that incorporated AI methodologies, which are expected to be refined and implemented in their respective institutions.
