OBJECTIVE:

DETAILS:

On December 4, 2025, the Department of English in association with Unnat Bharat Abhiyan Cell organized a Play-Learn and Edu-Kit Distribution Program in Kuldiha Primary School, one of the AJU-adopted villages. Dr. Rajkumari Ghosh, Program Coordinator of the Department of English oversaw the program, which aimed to direct educational and developmental outreach initiatives in the area. The event started with an interactive session with the kids, during which the team provided motivational ideas about the significance of education in creating their future and urged the students to actively participate in their studies. The kids eagerly engaged in the conversation, creating a lively and excited atmosphere.

All of the pupils were then given important Edu-Kits, which included notebooks, pencils, pens, coloring supplies, geometry sets, and fundamental learning aids. The distribution was intended to lower material barriers to learning and assist their academic needs. After receiving the kits, which would help them with their regular study routines and classroom activities, the kids expressed happiness and thanks. Teachers at Kuldiha Primary School praised the department's initiative and emphasized how it improves the village's learning environment. They also recognized AJU's ongoing community development initiatives.

In a brief speech, Dr. Rajkumari Ghosh and Dr. Manoj Kumar Pathak reaffirmed ARKA JAIN University's dedication to advancing holistic development, social responsibility, and high-quality education in the villages it has adopted. He underlined that these kinds of programs strengthen ties between the community and institutions and have a significant educational impact at the local level. The faculty members, Dr. Rupa Sarkar and Dr. Shahin Fatma were also there with the student volunteers to make it a success.

OUTCOME: Reaffirmed the University's dedication to empowering rural communities through sustained educational outreach.
