GUEST LECTURE ON “NEOPLASIA”

Date of Event	20-02-2026
Name of the Event	Guest lecture on “Neoplasia”
Type of the Event	Guest Lecture Session-Carrier Counselling
Conducted by	School of Nursing
No. of Participants	38

OBJECTIVE:

The objective of the guest lecture on Neoplasia was to enhance students’ understanding of the basic concept of Neoplasia, types of tumors, causes and risk factors, pathophysiology, clinical features, diagnostic methods, treatment modalities, and the importance of early detection, prevention, and effective nursing management in oncology care.

DETAILS:

The School of Nursing at Arka Jain University organized a guest lecture on the topic Neoplasia on 20th February 2026 through virtual mode for B.Sc. Nursing 3rd semester students. The event started with a brief welcome and introduction of the guest speaker by the event coordinator, Ms. Chinmayee Behera. The session was conducted in an interactive manner where students were encouraged to actively participate. During the lecture, Dr. Shaik Faraz Ahmmed explained the basic concept of Neoplasia, including its definition, types, causes, and characteristics of tumor cells. He discussed the difference between benign and malignant tumors, their growth patterns, and how cancer spreads in the human body. The session aimed to enhance students’ knowledge about the concept of Neoplasia, tumour development, and its clinical significance in the healthcare field. The lecture was delivered by Dr. Shaik Faraz Ahmmed, a physician from SCB Medical College, Cuttack, who shared his expertise and clinical experiences related to the topic. The speaker also highlighted important topics such as risk factors of cancer, early detection, and preventive measures. He explained how healthcare professionals, especially nurses, play a significant role in patient care, awareness, and early identification of cancer symptoms. The Guest lecture was supported with examples and simple explanations to help students understand the topic easily. The event was conducted under the guidance of Prof. Ginu Anie Joseph, Principal, and School of Nursing. The program concluded with a formal vote of thanks, expressing gratitude to the speaker for sharing her valuable expertise and to all participants for their active involvement.

TAKEAWAY (OUTCOMES): students gained awareness about the causes, risk factors, and early signs of cancer, which is essential for early diagnosis and prevention. The lecture also helped students understand the important role of nurses in patient education, early detection, and supportive care for cancer patients. Overall, the session improved the students’ theoretical knowledge and clinical understanding related to pathology and oncology.
