OBSERVATION VISIT TO THE RECEIVING BAY

Date of Event	27.04.2026
Name of the Event	Observation visit to the Receiving Bay
Type of the Event	Experiential Learning
Conducted by	School of Nursing
No. of Participants	38

OBJECTIVE: The objective of visiting the receiving bay is to help nursing students understand the process of receiving and shifting patients in emergency situations, observe initial patient assessment and triage procedures, learn emergency care and communication techniques, understand infection control and safety measures, and develop knowledge about the coordination and role of healthcare professionals in managing incoming patients efficiently.

DETAILS: School of Nursing organized a visit to Receiving Bay for B.Sc. Nursing III semester (Batch 2024-2028) in MGMH dimna jamshedpur from 1pm to 3 pm. Students experienced a practical and informative learning session during the visit to the receiving bay. They observed how patients are received, assessed, and shifted for immediate treatment according to the severity of their condition. Students learned about triage, emergency care procedures, infection control practices, use of emergency equipment, and communication among healthcare team members. The visit helped them understand the importance of quick decision-making, teamwork, patient safety, and the role of nurses in managing emergency situations effectively. Students noticed the importance of rapid assessment, effective communication, teamwork, and coordination among doctors, nurses, and other healthcare staff in providing timely care. They gained knowledge about prioritizing patient needs, maintaining patient safety, and handling emergency situations calmly and professionally. The visit enhanced their clinical observation skills, confidence, critical thinking ability, and understanding of the nurse's role in emergency and trauma care settings.

TAKEAWAY (OUTCOMES): The visit enhanced their observation skills, communication, teamwork, critical thinking, and confidence in handling emergency situations while understanding the important role of nurses in emergency and trauma care. The visit enhanced their observation skills, communication, teamwork, critical thinking, and confidence in handling emergency situations while understanding the important role of nurses in emergency and trauma care.
