OBJECTIVE: To establish a supportive, trusting, and patient-centred relationship that promotes physical and emotional well-being and to facilitate the safe expression of concerns, reduce patient anxiety, encourage coping, and assist in identifying and addressing health-related needs.

DETAILS: The School of Nursing organized a Role Play on Therapeutic communication for B.Sc. Nursing 5th semester (Batch 2023-2027) in BLOCK A Room No. 134 from 90:00am -10:00am. Students actively participated in the role play by portraying different roles such as Psychiatric nurse, Counsellor, good friend, mother, bad friend, husband, depressive patient . The role play began with a scenario of adjustment of a girl in new hostel and college. After repeated torture and due to low self-esteem and lack of healthy coping mechanism repeated suicidal thought were coming to patients mind. And the result is she was trying to attempt suicide. Then her good friend along with the girl visited to the counsellor. Now gradually patient improved her condition. The role play was highly interactive and helped students translate theoretical knowledge into practical understanding. It improved communication skills, teamwork, critical thinking, and patient education abilities. The event was made possible through the combined efforts of the Principal, Prof. Mrs. Ginu Anie Joseph & Vice Principal, Prof. Mrs. Shilpa. J along with the Event coordinator.

TAKEAWAY (OUTCOMES): Students learns to utilize caring, critical thinking to synthesis Knowledge derived from physical, biological, behavioral sciences and humanities, in the practice of professional nursing & midwifery and communicate effectively with patients, peers and all health care providers
